

Integrity & Trust

Nick Fish reflects on 18 years of advice

Mark helped establish life long habits that achieve financial freedom

Mark Heanly is a man of integrity who you can trust. He has advised me for 18 years, combining his experience founding his own chartered accounting practice, with an understanding of people, Mark helped establish life long habits that achieve financial freedom. Whenever I have had a large business transaction, a personal financial discussion involving family, or simply a celebration on a job well done, I turn to Mark. He has a sharp mind for figures, practical first hand experience in business, and is family man and role model for my own kids. If you need clarity of thought when making a 'life' decision, get your head around your numbers and gain certainty that you will be able to retire with an acceptable lifestyle, you should meet with Mark.
