

Back from the Brink

Not your average assignment

Getting his clients out of some of life's stickiest situations isn't necessarily Mark Heanly's bread and butter but it's the part of his job that he talks most fondly about Having unknowingly become a bankrupt, with the Trustee of her estate about to sell her family home, Sandy White met with Mark who developed and implemented a strategy that ultimately resulted in her bankruptcy being annulled and the family home saved.

'I haven't got a clue how to thank someone that saved our mental health, our family, our marriage and our home and more,' Sandy wrote.
