

2016 HILLROSS PROMOTING THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN IN FINANCIAL PLANNING AWARD

Congratulations

KELLY MITCHELL

HILLROSS ALBURY

Kelly Mitchell with Catherine Brenner and Michael Guggenheimer at the Hillross Recognition Dinner, Melbourne January 2017

On behalf of Hillross, I would like to congratulate Kelly Mitchell for her outstanding achievement in winning the 2016 Hillross Promoting the Interests of Women in Financial Planning Award.

This prestigious award was open to Hillross advisers across Australia.

Kelly Mitchell has a passion for educating younger clients and women about super and retirement.

She is heavily involved in the community, working with client referrals from the Cancer Council Pro Bono program.

In less than 3 years, Kelly has transitioned from Para Planner to one of four senior advisers in the business. Kelly has also demonstrated a high level of academic achievement and currently holds a Diploma Financial Services in Super and Finance, as well as a Bachelor of Business (with distinction) and a Masters in Financial Planning

Kelly also received the Charles Sturt Dean's award (2 years) and in 2014 received the AFA Excellence in education (Shortlist) Award from the AFA.

This award is recognition of the value she provides to her clients and the deep relationships she has built promoting the interest of women in financial planning.

I would like to thank Kelly Mitchell for her commitment and support which has contributed to the overall success of Hillross.

Yours sincerely,

Michael Guggenheimer
Managing Director
